

CELTIC CULTURAL TOUR

Presented by Bartow County Library System and the Bartow History Museum

LITERATURE AND THE SPIRITUAL CONSCIOUSNESS OF THE CELTIC PEOPLE

Thurs. July 14th 7:00 pm

Cartersville Public Library

Dr. James Flannery, noted scholar, singer, author and a distinguished chair as Winship Professor of the Arts and Humanities at Emory University presents a lecture on the roots of Irish literature and how Irish literature influenced the development of other Celtic literature.

CELTIC MUSIC SHOW AND TELL

Thurs. July 21th 7:00 pm

Cartersville Public Library

Irish native and longtime host of WRFG Atlanta's "The Celtic Show", John C. Falstaff presents an historical tour of the musics of Ireland, Scotland and Wales, both on their home turfs and throughout the Celtic diaspora. From the 1940s and 1950s origins of the Clancy Brothers and the Chieftains to the 1990s sensation of Riverdance and beyond, it's a story that spans much of the globe, overlaps with country and bluegrass, and has influenced artists as diverse as Bob Dylan, Paul McCartney, the Grateful Dead and Metallica.

THE HISTORY OF THE IRISH PEOPLE IN THE AMERICAN SOUTH

Thurs. July 28th 7:00 pm

Bartow History Museum

Dr. Bryan McGovern of Kennesaw University discusses the history of the Irish in the South during the 19th century, focusing on the Civil War and their contribution to southern society.

GEORGIA
HUMANITIES
COUNCIL

Bartow County Library System

429 W Main St.

Cartersville, GA 30120

770-382-4203

www.bartowlibraryonline.org

Bartow History Museum

4 E Church St.

Cartersville, GA 30120

770-387-2774

www.bartowhistorymuseum.org

This project is supported by the Georgia Humanities Council and the National Endowment for the Humanities and through appropriations from the Georgia General Assembly.